Headline:
A largely bright and sunny day, cool.

Today:
Any early fog patches and showers in the north clearing, with bright spells following for most. Staying mostly dry with plenty of sunny spells. A risk of the odd isolated shower in the afternoon. Feeling rather cool and fresh. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Tonight:
Remaining dry and mostly clear, though some patchy high cloud moving south overnight. A risk of areas of fog developing with a touch of grass frost. Cold. Minimum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Wednesday:
A dry and bright morning after any patches of fog clear. Becoming rather cloudy from the north with showers soon following into the afternoon. Cool in the freshening northerly breeze. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
A showery start Thursday, especially in east, drier and brighter later. Some brightness but bands of cloud and light rain at times Friday and Saturday with westerly winds. Becoming cold.
